It Goes Through With No Opposition

The City of Portsmouth Will Get Its First State Building

Concord, April 13.—The bill for a $30,000 state armory for Portsmouth passed the senate this forenoon with no opposition, thus bringing to a close one of the most persistent fights of the present session of legislature. When the bill passed the House on Tuesday it was anticipated that it would go through the senate without difficulty. The new state armory will be Portsmouth's first state building. The railroad rate bill as amended by the senate was received in the house this forenoon, favorably reported and laid on the table pending the action of the senate on the utilities and tax commission bills. The house met this afternoon at 2:30.

A PLEA FOR UNIFORMED MEN

Assistant Secretary Suggests Passage of Antidiscrimination Laws

As another step in the national government's effort to stop discrimination against the wearers of the service uniforms of the United States Navy and Marine Corps, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Winthrop, suggested today that the laws along these lines could be enacted in the next session so often visited by the navy and marine corps while in uniform, wrote Mr. Winthrop in a "most unfortunate and unnecessary" view of the excellent character of the uniform of the navy and marine corps, the vast majority of whom are volunteers against any man because he wears the uniform of the army, navy or marine corps. The Rhode Island law is of similar import.

THE HEBREWS' OBSERVANCE OF PASSOVER

In thanksgiving for their deliverance from the slavery of Egypt, and the successful flight of their forefathers under the patriarchs into Palestine, the Hebrews of this city Wednesday evening last night, when the story of the Passover was told in the homes.

Their observance was formulated early in the morning when every par-title of chronicle or home made bread containing yeast and other modern ingredients, was placed upon the windowsills preparatory to his flight from the homes of the 550 Hebrew residents of the city. Shortly before 11 o'clock, chronicle was banished from the homes and in its stead was substituted matzo, an unleavened bread and cracker containing only flour and a few oils which are dedicated to special virtues.

Beginning at that hour the Hebrews began the use of leavened bread for eight days but their consumption of matzo was not begun until after the Hebrews of this city Wednesday evening last night, when the story of the Passover was told in the homes. They tasted of no bread in the interim.

The Hebrews are enabled in the tem-

PERMANENT STREET BUILDING RECOMMENDED

Mayor Badger Makes Some Excellent Recommendations--Wire Inspector's Bill Passed--Other Business.

A meeting of the Mayor and Council was held on Wednesday evening with Councilman Parsons the only absentee. There was considerable business transacted and the Mayor read an interesting set of recommendations in regard to the permanent improvement of the streets. The Wire Inspector's bill which provides for inspection of all wires, was passed in a new draft after considerable discussion. The only excitement was when a large but few of the council chamber several times.

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 p. m. by Mayor Badger and a communication was received from the Board of Trade and Merchants Exchange through the clerk, Mr. F. M. Sise, asking the council in case they did any permanent work on Market street that Ceres street to the ferry landing be included as it was in a deplorable condition. They called attention to the fact that it was the gateway of the city in summer and at all times heavily traveled.

Mayor Badger said that in this respect he had some recommendations to make and said:

Portsmouth, N. H., April 12, 1911.

To The Honorable City Council:—

Upon my induction into office, I refrained from making any recommendations for the reason that I had only a general acquaintance with the conditions of the city, but informed you that: "I would, as the law requires, call your attention to any matter that may arise concerning the welfare of the city and make such recommendations as, after a careful consideration, I shall deem right."

I have now carefully studied the conditions and needs of the city and believe I can intelligently make some recommendations in regard to the permanent paving of our heavy traffic streets and for the improvement of Richards avenue and other streets, which are badly in need of repairs.

The policy of building a small piece of permanent paving each year, which has been adopted by the city government, of the past few years is not, in my opinion, the best method to pursue in the building of permanent paving needed in our city.

This method of piece-meal construction each year, is admittedly much more costly, proportionately, than it would be to construct several years' portion at one time. The larger the job, the less in proportion it will cost, owing to the fact that large jobs attract more bidders and thus create a sharper competition among contractors for such work.

To substantiate this statement, I call your attention to the fact that the "Board of Public Works" received one bid only for the paving job on Islington street last year—the reason being that the large contracting firms did not care to move tools, machinery, etc., for so small a job.

The "Board of Public Works" has recommended for this year's permanent paving the following: The lower end of Market street to the bridge; Bow street from Market street to Ceres street; and Ceres street to the ferry landing.

I desire to submit for the careful consideration of the Council and also to the citizens and taxpayers, the following: In addition to the above named recommendations of the "Board of Public Works," I recommend that the Islington street granite paving be continued to the top of hill at Dover street and from thence with vitrified brick paving to the asphalt at Pearl street.

This will complete a continuous stretch of paving and asphalt from lower Market street to the breweries, and moreover, will make a job of sufficient magnitude as to cause a keen competition among contractors for the work. It is essential that Islington street should be completed. The heaviest traffic of the city is over this street and it is impossible to maintain a macadam road on a heavy traffic street encumbered with railroad tracks; especially where the railroad occupies the center, or crown of the street, thereby causing a continual grid away from the rails by heavy teams travelling on the sides of the street. The rails become exposed and prominent and are a constant menace to all vehicles.

In considering this much needed improvement, it should not be overlooked that the "Boston & Maine Railroad" will bear the expense of paving its roadbed, which is eighteen inches, each side of the rails. This is, in many places, nearly one-third of the street, and will be a great saving to the city.

I am informed by the Superintendent of Streets, that after the removal of a few inches of the surface, that part of Islington street, from end of asphalt to Cabot street contains crushed stone of the two-inch size,

"Sunny Monday Bubbles Will wash away your troubles"

The report of the City Engineer on the estimated cost of the Islington street job is in substance as follows:

The actual length of the street to be repaved is 1,913.55 feet. Of this distance, 213.5 feet should be constructed of Granite Block Paving to the brow of the hill on Islington street near the intersection of Dover street. Easterly 1700 feet to the end of the Asphalt Paving at Pearl street, vitrified brick on a concrete base should be used as the grades are slight.

The average width between the curbs as they now set is 35' 6" which gives an area of 842 sq. yds., which at $3.50 per sq. yd. equals $2,947.00. Add $100.00 for new curbing, and the total amounts to $3,047.00. Deduct the Portsmouth Electric Railway's portion of the work, which amounts to $662.09 and $2,385.00 remains as the estimated cost for the city for Granite Block Paving.

The amount of Brick Paving is estimated at 6,705 sq. yds. between curbs as laid, at a cost of $3.00 per sq. yd., equals $20,115.00. Add $500.00 for new curbing, equals $20,615.00. Deduct $4,580.00, which is the Portsmouth Electric Railway's portion and $16,035.00 remains, which is the estimated cost for the city for Brick Paving.

A total of $18,420.00 estimated to pave as above mentioned.

If the open road—or traveled way be made 30 feet between curbs, this will considerably cut down the cost of maintenance and provide a clean cut and unobstructed gutter.

The amount of Granite Block Paving will then be 712 sq. yds. at $3.50 per sq. yd. equals $2,500.00. Add $100.00 for new curbing, and the amount is $2,600.00. Deduct $662.09 as the Portsmouth Electric Railway's portion, and $1,937.90 remains as the estimated cost for the city of Granite Block Paving 30-feet wide.

The amount of vitrified brick paving will be 5,700 sq. yds. at $3.00 per sq. yd. equals $17,100.00. Add $500.00 for new curbing, and the amount is $17,600.00. Deduct the Portsmouth Electric Railway's portion $4,580.00 and $13,020.00 remains as the estimated cost for the city of vitrified brick paving 30-feet wide.

The total amount for paving for the city to pay for would then be $14,933.90 or $3,462.00 less than if the street were paved in the less satisfactory manner which is between the curbs as they now are laid. It would then be necessary to expend this approximately $3,500.00 for removing from the old and re-setting in the new, location, the curb and filling, grading and loaming what would then be the tree belt and repaving and straightening the brick sidewalks.

(Signed) J. E. Parker, Sup't.

To finance this project, I recommend the issuing of "Permanent Improvement Bonds," so arranged to begin maturing at the expiration of the "Sewer Bonds" payments in 1912. By this arrangement the tax rate should not be increased and the burden of taxation will justly distributed over the time in which the city will be receiving the benefits of the work.

The permanent paving of our principal streets is unquestionably the proper thing to do and is in the end real economy. I am convinced that it will be good business, on the part of the city to provide for the execution of this work this summer, and then allow the matter to rest for several years.

This kind of paving wears in the City of Boston more than twenty years, and it is reasonable to assume that it will last twice that length of time in a city of this size and traffic.

However, what is done by way of paving this year, I earnestly urge early action by the Council, in order to avoid a repetition of the grave mistake of last—the laying of cement in cold weather.

Respectfully submitted, Daniel W. Badger.

On motion of Councilman Leary the recommendations were referred to a special committee to be appointed by the mayor to act in conjunction with the Board of Public Works. Mayor Badger appointed the entire council as a committee of the whole to meet with the Board of Public Works and bring in some report for the next meeting.

No More Fumigating Measles.

Mayor Badger informed the council of the action he had taken in regards to fumigating measles, which action he had taken after consulting with the Secretary of the State Board of Health. His action was ratified by the council.

Petitions.

The Portsmouth Gas company petitioned for an extension of their mains on the following streets: Middle street, Lincoln avenue, New Castle avenue Islington street, Mary street, Humphreys street, Gates street, Sherburne avenue, and Wentworth street. The work to be done at once and finished in six weeks' time.

On motion of Mr. Leary the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works, after he had stated that in his opinion, after all such jobs the contractors or petitioners should be required to keep the streets in repairs for a certain period after they had dug them up.

The Rockingham Light & Power company petitioned for a pole location on Summer street and it was referred to the Inspector of Wires.

P. R. Watson was granted permission to open Bennett street to enter around when he wished. He was in favor of the bill and claimed that none of the contractors opposed it, that the Light & Power company were the only ones to oppose it.

Mr. Whitaker said that the contractors had been to him and had objected to being held up in their work by an inspector. They as a company did not care, but favored an inspection if it was to be an inspection.

Want Play Ground At Creek.

Councilman Leary offered a resolution that the land on Pine street owned by the city be turned over to the Board of Public Works to be used as a playground for the children of that neighborhood.

Mr. Leary stated that the land was a menace to the health of that section as it was now and to give the Board of Public Works authority to fix it up they must have it turned over to them. The resolution was passed.

The Auditors report of the bill of the Rockingham Light & Power company for the month of February was ordered paid.

Report On Dangerous Poles.

City Solicitor Emery reported on the matter of the charges of the Wire Inspector of the dangerous condition of certain poles belonging to the Light & Power company. He had written to President Belden and he had turned the letter over to Superintendent Whitaker and was sure that matters would be adjusted. Mr. Emery stated that the company had started to take steps to remedy the matter.

Mr. Whitaker spoke on the report and stated that they would plead guilty in some respects but not in all. The High street pole spoken of, they were working on in fact had the poles up some months ago to take this load but they had been forced to delay. The Fleet street pole complained of as being bent, was in its natural state as it grew bent and had always been that way. It was not dangerous. The Deer street pole they had asked for permission to double corner High and Deer and Deer and Vaughan but had been refused over a year ago. The taking of the pole on Summer street belonging to the city was a mistake. It had carried their wires for five years to his knowledge, and he had supposed it was their pole. They were willing to give back the pole and pay damages.

On motion it was voted to adjourn for one week.

THE LEGISLATIVE ATTENDANCE

Interesting Figures on Membership During Present Session

Concord, April 13.—The following figures are of interest as bearing upon the question of attendance of members in the legislature.

At the beginning of the session there were 391 members. For the purposes of accuracy the speaker is excluded from this statement, also the representative from Meredith (now deceased) is not included. The estimate, therefore, is based on 391 members.

Also in this spirit of fairness one roll call, taken on the question of adjournment, after business had been concluded on a Thursday afternoon, is not reckoned.

There have been twenty roll calls, which means a possible attendance of 391 at twenty roll calls. It requires a two-thirds attendance to ensure valid action, or 262 members. The largest number of members recorded on any roll call was 339, showing 52 members absent. The smallest number on any roll call was 251, showing an absence of 140 members. In just one-fourth of these roll calls there were less than two thirds present, and in seven of the fifteen roll calls which did show two-thirds present, the margin of safety varied only from nine to twenty-five votes. The average number present in the twenty roll calls was 290, or 28 more than two thirds.

On every day where more than one roll call was taken there was always a loss in numbers between the first and final roll call. For instance, on April 5, when the Manchester redistricting bill was under consideration, the roll call showed 333 members present. Later in the day, on the first roll call on the Portsmouth armory bill, the vote was 301, and on a subsequent roll call on same measure the vote was 290. On March 16 on the bill to make Sunday a closed season for hunting, a vote of 319 was registered, and later in the day, on a roll call on the Nashua charter bill the figures dropped to 237.

Out of a possible 291 members only 33 have been present at all twenty roll calls, or 8 percent of all the members. By counties these are divided as follows: Carroll, 3 members, or 16 per cent of the county membership; Merrimack, 8 members, or 15 per cent of total; Rockingham, 6 members, or 11 per cent; Belknap, 2 members, or 11 per cent; Cheshire, 3 members, or 10 per cent; Coos, 2 members, or 7 per cent; Hillsboro, 6 members, or 6 per cent; Grafton, 2 members, or 5 per cent; Strafford, 2 members, or 5 per cent; Sullivan, none.

Only 214 of the 391 have responded to three-fourths of the roll calls, or 54 per cent. In Sullivan county, 72 per cent of the total have responded to three-fourths of the roll calls; in Merrimack, 70 per cent of the total have responded; in Carroll, 63 per cent; in Cheshire, 61 per cent; Grafton, 61 per cent; Belknap, 59 per cent; Coos, 52 per cent; Hillsboro, 51 per cent; Rockingham, 49 per cent; Strafford 40 per cent.

The record from the cities as regards attendance at two thirds of the roll calls, is as follows: Portsmouth, 55 per cent of the members present at two-thirds of roll calls, or 6 per cent better than the average for the county; Rochester, 57 per cent, of 17 per cent better than average for county; Somersworth 16 per cent, or 26 per cent below county average; Dover 36 per cent, or 4 per cent below showing for county; Laconia, 41 per cent, or 18 per cent below county average; Concord 66 per cent, or 4 per cent below average for county; Franklin 80 per cent or 10 per cent above the average; Manchester 55 per cent, or 4 per cent above the average; Nashua, 30 per cent or 21 per cent below the average; Keene, 37 per cent or 24 per cent below the average;

Berlin 25 per cent, or 27 per cent below the average.

67 members out of the 391, or 18 per cent have been absent for more than half of the roll calls. From Rockingham county 21 per cent have been absent for more than half the roll calls; Strafford, 26 per cent have been absent more than half the time; Belknap, 6 per cent; Carroll, none absent half the time; Merrimack 4 per cent; Hillsboro, 14 per cent; Cheshire, 10 per cent; Sullivan, 51-2 per cent; Grafton, 20 per cent; Coos, 47 per cent.

There are eleven members who have been present at only five roll calls, eight who have responded but four times six but three times, three but once, and one member who has not been present at a single roll call.

From the above figures it may be counted that the showing by counties is generally in favor of those counties which are reached with the greatest difficulty, and that as between cities and towns the showing is generally favorable to the towns. The accessibility by trains daily appears to enter into both the facts.

In a recent roll call not one of the twenty men from Nashua responded, and in the last two roll calls not one man from Somersworth responded. One of the six members from Somersworth has responded to 16 of the 20 roll calls, and the other five have responded only nine, two, six and five times respectively.

The roll of honor men are Baker of Exeter, Elwell of Exeter, Brown of Hampton, Pridham of New Castle, Collis of Portsmouth, Brewster of Portsmouth, Sherry of Dover, Ward 2; Durgin of Rochester, Preston of New Hampton, Lane of Sanbornville, French of Moultonboro, Hodgdon of Tuftonborough, Hobbs of Wolfeborough, Rolfe of Concord, Adams of Concord, Cannon of Concord, Tucker of Henniker, Mitchell of Hooksett, Page of Northfield, Colby of Pembroke Lake of Pembroke, Pickard of Hancock, Barry of Manchester, Wagner of Manchester Ward 2, Lamb of Manchester, Young of Manchester, Smith of Peterboro, Cutter of Jaffrey, Davis of Keene, Graves of Walpole, Emerson of Hanover, Loveland of Rumney, Bergquist of Berlin, Elliott of Whitefield, a total of 33.

In addition to the above 33 members who have a clean slate there are 26 members who have been absent but once upon roll call, including Frisbee of Ward 2, Portsmouth. The members from Pembroke have a credible record, two of them being in the "honor" list and the third one having been absent but once.

Of the four members from Exeter two have a clean slate and a third has been absent but once. Taken all together it has been a busy and quite an interesting session. Including Senate and House Bills and resolutions, joint and singular, there have been 550 presented, of which a very large portion have been killed. A kindly feeling has prevailed throughout, though there have been warm discussions with some sharp details. For so large a body of men the affairs have been well managed by a very competent speaker and for the amount of work accomplished, the work may be considered as having been well done, and the session closes quite satisfactorily to all concerned. ### P. A. C. BIG DOUBLE FAIR.

For novelty, originality and brilliancy the coming big double fair ("The Mawson" and "The Grape Arbor") of the Portsmouth Athletic Club, will be an imposing and all similar amusement enterprises ever held in our city. You will miss a rare treat if you fail to attend this innovation in fairs.

As usual this club has spared neither time nor expense in their preparation for this event and the result will be an exhibition which will surely delight, instruct and amuse their patrons, and one which will set a new standard for this particular form of amusement.

For magnitude, the last big fair given by this club, a few years ago will never be duplicated.

For novelty in treatment, completeness in detail and brilliancy of conception, this one to come will probably never be excelled.

RIVER AND HARBOR

Barge No. 3 is taking on her cargo of coal at the Consolidation Coal company's new wharf. Much of it is going to Exeter in river barges.

The five master Margaret Haskell, south bound, remains at anchor below awaiting a fair wind. Light south-erlies have prevailed for the past three days.

The powder hulks Columbia and George Berry, moored near Castle Island, will soon be towed from Boston to New York. They are used for storage of dynamite and other explosives, a custom that has obtained about 30 years. The state police have ordered removal of the hulks, on the ground that they constitute a danger to life and property. Both hulks are worn-out coasting schooners.

Sailed.

The purpose is to collect there information about child life in the United States which may be accessible to all interested in the subject in a charitable way, or as a matter of education. It is Mr. Peter's idea that the bureau should gather very comprehensive information covering such topics as infant mortality child labor and infant delinquency.

Tornado in Kansas.

St. Louis April 13.—Eleven persons were killed and more than 50 injured in a tornado that swept through Kansas from the northern border to Big Heart Ok., in the Osage Nation this afternoon. Six towns were in the path of the storm, and three of that number were blown off the map. The heaviest loss of life was at Big Heart, in the northern part of Oklahoma, on the Midland Valley railroad. Eight are known to be dead and a score injured. But six of the houses that sheltered the 400 population of Big Heart were left standing. The tornado, accompanied by a driving rain, struck at 4 o'clock and swept everything in its path. Houses were picked up from their foundations and shaken to pieces and the occupants were whirled through the air.

Full Fare For Clergymen.

Chicago, Ill., April 13.—Members of the Central Passenger association representing railways entering Chicago Wednesday urged that the practice of issuing reduced rate tickets to members of the clergy be discontinued. It was decided to obtain a final vote by sending circulars to all roads connected with the association. Following the meeting members declared there is little doubt that the roads will endorse the plan, and after 30 days' notice has been given ministers will be compelled to pay the regular fare.

IS YOUR HAIR STREAKED WITH GRAY? GRAY HAIR MEANS AGE

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Bring Back the Natural Color

How often one hears the expression "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulfur Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the head, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

STRANGE, INDEED

Strange, is it not, that practically none of the New England press have thought it worth while to chronicle the events of the senators' shore dinner at the Rockingham last week, even when they had glorious opportunities for clipping it from a more "enterprising" journal?

Decidedly strange, is it not, that the fearful and wonderful account of this imaginary bacchanalian orgy has not so much as caused a flutter of excitement except among sensation-loving, scandal-diffusing readers of the saffron sheet, without whose patronage its existence would be beyond the bounds of possibility?

Well, not so strange, after all. This Boston paper, with customary excess of zeal, has overdone the matter and ruined what, with the diplomatic handling of a more conservative yet equally mendacious paper were possibilities of a first class hullabaloo. To believe the absurdities of the Rockingham dinner story is too much for the credulity of nine-tenths of the population. That the other tenth takes them seriously is of little moment.

Meanwhile, is the affirmation of the yellow paper were not sufficient proof of the falsity of the yarn, the clean, upright and open records of the men whom it has foully maligned stand as additional refutation.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

In navy parlance, the railroad question rates a speedy settlement.

May the runners in the best league be endowed with seven league boots.

Eight battleships present or expected at the Charleston navy yard. Where does Portsmouth come in?

Edward Lewis of Stratford, Ct., had his annual shave and hair-cut on April 10, whether he needed it or not.

That team of "hules" is probably champing its bits in anxiety for the honor of being driven down Pennsylvania avenue by the new Speaker of the House.

Abe Ruef is teaching a Bible class in the California penitentiary, but we should advise pupils to beware of pickpockets notwithstanding.

Two hold-up men in Boston have been sentenced to prison for eighteen to twenty and fifteen to eighteen years, respectively, but probably Governor Foss will pardon them in a year or so.

Capt. Robert Bartlett, Rear Admiral Perry's right hand man and a Newfoundlander, has become a naturalized American citizen. Now let's have Cook denaturalized—leg pardon—denaturalized.

All honor to Representative Moore of Laconia, who cheerfully waived the claims of his own town and admitted the urgent need of an army in Portsmouth on the strength of its recommendation by the United States officers.

The doctors at that Leavenworth sanitarium at which Mrs. Carrie Nation is a patient, say that they expect her complete recovery again. They should bear in mind, however, that no other.

that too sudden a change for the better might prove too much for her nerves.

Now we think of it, men of Mr. George Rublee's ilk aren't always above accepting rubles or rupees.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Appealing Pillsbury.

The strained relations of Governor Bass and Representative Pillsbury, whose newspaper was the big factor in his excellency's political success, have been obvious to every one for some weeks, but the governor reveals a sympathetic mood in ordering the publication of the letter by President Mellen to the semi-official, serio-comic traveling performer, George Rublee, a delegate to the Bass cabinet from the "little New York" colony at Cornish. The Union was beset with curiosity about this letter, and apparently refused to believe the recipient was Mr. Rublee, even after The Patriot told the news last week. The faithful plodding Union was slow to become convinced of the real summer-visitor-in-power aspect of the Bass administration. Now, completely disillusioned, the Union unites with this paper in the demand for more knowledge of Rublee than the mere statement that he was of counsel in the Pinchot-Glaris case at Washington. If muck-raking politics is his chief hobby, as it is that of the New Hampshire "Progressives," we need to know it to be entirely fair in our remarks about him. The Patriot repeats its interrogatories: Who authorized Mr. Rublee to represent New Hampshire in important affairs of state? Is he the Granite State's lieutenant governor? What does he aspire to? Does he come here as a secret emissary to cause New Hampshire to obey the mandates of John Hays Hammond, who took a hand in our politics last October? Does he represent the Citizen's League of Waco, Tex., or Des Moines or adorn the list of officers of the new Good Government association, which a Newport exchange believes is operating on the probable theory that the suckers are not all dead?

The Mellen letter to Rublee, unless its reference to the Hepburn law hides an African not perceived by the untrained mind is as innocuous as a dishmop, and to this readers will agree who take pains to examine the epistle as it appears in another column. The Bass brothers, keen manipulators that they are, of course realize the unimportance of the letter and therefore the only excuse for its release to the press is to appease the disgruntled Pillsbury. If possible, introduce the gentleman from New York, Mr. Rublee, whose name is not on the record of legislative lobbyists and above whom a fuller explanation is an immediate duty.—Concord Patriot.

Progressive Advertising.

In the Sunday edition of one of the large Boston newspapers, which is notorious for its leaning toward the sensational and out, and again in several of its yesterday's editions, there was a large amount of space given to a discussion of the New Hampshire legislature, the upper body in particular. That the reports were anything but complimentary is well known to the majority of people, who, fortunately for the reputation of our state, know that a reduction of about seventy-five per cent. from the statements made by some newspapers is the only way to get at the real facts. This distortion of the truth, innocent in itself, in such a manner that a scandal is raised against the names of some of the most prominent and highly respected men in this state should be rightly resented.

It seems very peculiar that in the

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case with Many Portsmouth People.

Too many Portsmouth citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unrelenting pain causes a constant misery, making work a burden and stopping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Masters and Ministers may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Portsmouth evidence? Clinician R. Hurd, 100 Hill street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidney complaint and suffered terribly from backache. It was almost impossible for me to do my work when the trouble was at its height and I always felt tired. The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at McElroy's Drug Store, relieved me and such corrected all the difficulties arising from disordered kidneys. During the time that has elapsed, I have been asked scores of times about Doan's Kidney Pills and I have always been pleased to tell of the great benefit I derived from this remedy. I can not praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States, say that they expect her complete recovery again. Remember the name—Doan's—and they should bear in mind, however, that no other.

A TIMELY TOPIC

—BY—
 HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT,
 President of the United States.

FORTIFYING THE PANAMA CANAL.

The right of the United States to Fortify the Panama Canal and to close it against the use of an enemy in time of war being established, what should be its policy? We build the canal to help us defend the country, not to help an enemy to attack it. Even if a certain and practical neutralization of the canal by agreement of all nations could be secured to us when engaged in war, an enemy could use the canal for transit to attack us in both oceans, as we propose to use it to defend ourselves. After expending $500,000,000 thus to make our national defense easier, are we to surrender half the military value of the canal by giving the benefit of it to a nation seeking to destroy us? It seems to me that the very statement of the proposition carries its refutation.

But it is said that we ought to defend the canal by our navy. I am not a strategist; I am not a military or a naval expert, but it seems to me as plain as that one and one are two that a navy is for the purpose of defense through offense, for the purpose of protection by attack, and that if we have to retain a part of our navy in order to defend the canal on both sides, then the canal becomes a burden, and not an instrument of defense at all. The canal ought to defend itself, and we ought to have fortifications there which will be powerful enough to keep off the navies of any nation that might possibly attack us. I am glad to see that Capt. Mahan, one of the greatest naval strategists, in a communication to the morning Tribune confirms this view.

Again, under our treaty with England and other countries, it is we who guarantee the neutrality of the canal. It is not the other countries that guarantee it to us, and we are bound, if we conform to the treaty with England, to put ourselves in such a condition that we can perform that guarantee. Suppose England is at war with some other country that is not bound to us by treaty rights at all, isn't it essential that we should have fortifications there to protect the canal, not only for our own use and for the world's commerce, but for the use of England and her warships as a means of transit to belligerents in time of war as long as we are ourselves not engaged in the controversy.

Sunday paper not a great deal of space was given to the scandal it only served as a sort of appetizer for over less besmearing by the "Progressive" page of very fine advertising for slaves" who undoubtedly are "on the make" not only in politics but social and as it may, this latter part has a peculiar flavor of its own, which makes strongly of Concord, N. H., and the Googoes. And when you come to think it over, a dispatch might be sent from Portsmouth to Boston, via Concord where it could be delayed for a day or two in the offices of a certain group of "Reformers" or possibly the Boston paper might have been sent, and as to what is contained in the Concord near enough to Portsmouth to send "this" dispatch under a little matter concerning the political situation in this state. Of course, we should hate to be forced to believe that any person who had a true regard for New Hampshire would do such a contemptible thing, but that piece sounded so much like a lot of articles that we have read before, and which have emanated from an office not more than a mile or two from the State House, that such a suspicion presents itself.

"Out of the experiences of 1911 the people of New Hampshire are not unlikely to take home a lesson," said the paper very truly, and the "people are waking up" also. But not in exactly the sense that was meant. Surely there are cracks to all trades, and the heavenly inclined "Progressives" have a good share of them. But just the same, that article was a first piece of advertising.—Dover Democrat.

"Too Fishy." Howling economy about everything not pertaining to proposed increases in salaries, the House "Progressives" opposed the Franklin Pierce statue bill. Now the Senate has killed the joint resolution, but an excuse that it was defeated at the behest of the "reformers" will sound too fishy.—Concord Patriot.

Trust in Outsiders.

Sherman E. Burroughs is credited with the statement that the well-advised Mr. Rublee is the attorney of the Bass family. Now will those objectors to the employment of out-of-the-state attorneys in the Bates investigation on the ground that New Hampshire's legal talent is second to none, please rise and express their opinion about this decision of "the family" to place trust in outsiders?—Concord Patriot.

Outside Representation.

Norman Haygood, the freebooter who edits Collier's, spoke in Boston, Sunday on "Politics in New Hampshire." Probably Haygood's Cornish and New York neighbor, Mr. Rublee, had just told him all the latest news from this state. New Hampshire, represented in this manner outside the state by young men who don't know and seldom even hear of it, is practically at the mercy of the muckrakers. If for nothing else it is fortunate that the state voted to buy Crawford notch because the favorable publicity received has and cry, "Make the railroad obey the law," Mr. Mellen asked very courteously that the matter be investigated by the legislature, and if the rates now in force were found to be too high that they would be reduced, but if found to be equitable they be legalized. This the people were willing to agree to, but it did not suit certain men who saw a political issue lost, and who wanted something to howl about in the next campaign, and they did their level best to prevent an amicable adjustment of the matter. Now let the blame rest where it belongs.—Journal Transcript.

Hard to Satisfy.

Wm. E. Chandler is hard to satisfy. Here he is, condemning the legislature of New Hampshire for its settlement of the contest over railroad rates in New Hampshire because the members were "coaxed" into the plan which was adopted "instead of the railroad's buying it." This is a singular turn. The case has been presented most thoroughly in arguments, and the old lobbying method in use for years in legislation in the Granite State was deliberately put aside by the road. And because the outcome is a suspension for two years pending further investigation, it is wrong. This is Prejudice capitalized indeed.—Boston Record.

RAILROAD NOTES

William Lurvey, brakeman on the upper yard switch, has been transferred to the shifter in the freight house yard filling the place of the late John Smith.

Albert Ham, engineer on the wharf switcher, is confined to his home with a severe case of the grip. Engineer William Dame is running in his place.

The summer schedule of trains will go in effect on June 26.

A bulletin has been issued to conductors and engineers calling attention to the fact that the management is open for any suggestions these employees care to make relative to the summer schedule of time tables.

The likelihood that the repair shops of the Boston and Maine not being rebuilt at Sanbornville, has caused much anxiety among trade boards and influential men in other places in efforts to have the shops located elsewhere. Dover thinks that that city is the logical place to rebuild the shops and has a line out for the same.

NEW CASTLE PARISH REUNION

The officers were elected Wednesday night at the annual parish meeting at the New Castle Congregational church; Treasurer Mrs. Albert Hanscom; clerk, Edwin D. Rand; trustee of Tredick fund, Jesse O. ### To Keep the Hair Healthy and Growing

"A perfect and most inexpensive dry shampoo mixture is made simply by mixing a half pound of corn meal with four ounces of amalone. Put in a fruit jar and stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture over the hair, then brush out thoroughly and your scalp will be clean and your hair light and fluffy.

It takes out every particle of oil, dust and dandruff, brings out the natural color of the hair—and if anything will make hair grow anome will. "Too much soap and water cause the hair to become faded, dull and brittle. Dry shampooing makes it long, thick and glossy. Then, too, hours of time are saved and there is no danger of catching cold after a dry shampoo."

Pittsburg's Great Trio and Backbone of Team. If They Fail to Shine Pirates Will Go To Smash

Pittsburg, April 12.—With the battle for the pennant now on fans are anxiously watching closely the progress of the local team. According to outside critics, nothing but the greatest kind of luck will bring the club into the first division. On the other hand, local experts figure that the team will make it warm for the Cubs and the Giants. There have been several additions to the Pirates since the close of the last campaign, but the club has not been bolstered up to any great extent since 1910. As has been the case for several years, the brunt of the work will fall on Manager Fred Clarke, Hans Wagner and Tommy Leach. It is a trio that cannot be surpassed anywhere. These men are all veterans. They combine mechanical ability, experience and brains and are undoubtedly the backbone of the Pittsburg team. The "big three" faded somewhat last year and can hardly be expected to improve this season. It took Wagner three months to hit his batting stride in 1910. In the early stage of the campaign he had the first real-hitting slump of his great career.

That worried the others to a certain extent, and the 1909 pennant winners finished third to the Cubs and Giants.
There is also said to be friction in the ranks of the Pirates. There are cliques and cliques are bad for ball clubs.

Vincent Campbell, who was "peppered" last season to take Clarke's place, has quit baseball, and the manager will himself hold down the left field position. Leach is at the height of his baseball career, and no one can look to him to improve. In fact, the veteran has reached an age when finished third to the Cubs and Giants.
ball players begin to go back. If the trio should fail to play up to the standards of former years the team will go to smash.

THE HAMPTON SELECTMEN EXONERATED

Hampton's special town meeting, held Tuesday afternoon, was well attended, and the affairs which had the citizens of that town deeply interested, were satisfactorily adjusted. The meeting was called primarily to settle the financial conditions, as it was alleged that the selectmen had expended more than the appropriations.

A vote was passed at the meeting which exonerated the selectmen. It was the sentiment of the meeting, that the system of management was bad, and a committee was appointed to recommend appropriations. The committee is composed of Judges Thomas Leavitt, Abbott Norris, and the present chairman of the board of selectmen, Joseph B. Brown.

MAY ADJOURN TOMORROW

Legislature About All Finished Up --Senate Taking Time On House Measures.

If an agreement can be reached on the railroad rate question the legislature will adjourn this week. In the house Wednesday morning a resolution was passed to adjourn Friday at 4 o'clock, but the resolution was laid on the table when it reached the senate, as some of the senators are determined to take what time they need for measures in which they are interested.

As a move forward on the rate question the senate passed the rate bill sent up by the house with a lengthy amendment, which in substance relieved the railroad from liability under the interstate commerce law, as President Mellen desired. The bill will go back to the house for concurrence on the amendment, and unless the house agrees on the senate's alteration a committee of conference will be appointed.

The breeziest incident in the house Wednesday was the fight over the bill to appropriate $50,000 for a new building for the engineering department at the state college, and which finally passed by the overwhelming vote of 265 to 47. French of Mountbrough played his familiar role of watchdog of the treasury, but most of the speakers in a lengthy debate favored the bill. Demeritt of Durham led the fight in an able speech. When French got his innings he said the state had appropriated $432,000 for schools and that as the budget would partially use up the income of the state from every source except direct taxation, and some $400,000 had been voted in special appropriations, the people must be prepared for a state tax of $900,000. He declared it time to call a halt.

Pickard of Hancock sided with Mr. French, and urged the house to look out for its reputation as a "progressive" body. He said the senate had set out to establish a splendid record regarding state finances, and warned the house not to let the upper house get the better of them.

Shapleigh of Littleton reminded the house that it had given $40,000 to Dartmouth college without a bill. Dartmouth, he said, with a capitalization of $6,000,000, had received $500,000 in gifts within six months, and was the richest institution in the state. He urged that the state college be given fair treatment. Preston of New Hampton tackled Mr. French in his financial figures in a fashion to bring that gentleman to his feet with an angry denial, and urged the house to pass this needed bill without regard to political consequences. O'Neill of Walpole expressed regret that the political issue had been raised, and praised the state college as a worthy institution. Morse of Newmarket declared that the Democrats would like to put the Republican propaganda on record as the most extravagant body in the history of the state, but favored this bill because it met a public need. Wiggin of Bedford spoke for the state college because it helped keep the boys on the farm and thereby helped the state. Mr. French put the house on record by demanding a roll-call on the final vote, but the majority against him was so heavy that it made the house appear proud of its record.

The Dartmouth college on which was hanged so hard in the house Wednesday, had a stormy experience in the senate. It came before that body with a divided report from the committee, and economists in the senate were opposed to giving $40,000 to the institution, and tried to kill it, but it was forwarded to a third reading by a vote of 14 to 8 on roll-call, and was in order for passage this afternoon.

Among the more important measures passed by the senate Wednesday morning were the Weaver bill to provide for the care of indigent patients in advanced stages of tuberculosis; the child labor bill; the bill to prevent drinking on trains; the Shapleigh bill to allow Strafford county deer hunters the use of rifle; the bill to prohibit discrimination against United States Military Uniform; the bill for registration of guides and others.

On motion of Senator Goodnow, the resolution was adopted requesting the governor to appoint a committee of five to investigate the cause of the spread of tuberculosis and to report some means for preventing the same, not later than December 1.

The bill to incorporate the Southern New Hampshire Development and Power company, which aims to establish a mammoth electric plant on the Lamprey river in Raymond, was passed with an amendment which continues the business of the company to Rockingham and Strafford counties.

The house passed the bill relating to careless shooting by hunters with an amendment reducing the penalty for the careless shooting of a person from ten years to two years imprisonment. The grade crossing bill was referred to the next legislature.

The Chapman bill providing for the creation of an 11th ward in Manchester was not reported by the committee on judiciary Wednesday morning, and it was rumored about the senate chamber that it would not be reported this session.

The management of the Boston Opera House announces that its third season of grand opera will be eighteen weeks' duration commencing Monday the 27th of November and ending Saturday March 30th. Four subscriptions, performances will be given weekly.—Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and Saturday Matinee. The subscription books are now open. Season tickets are available for series of eighteen performances, prices of each series are: Orchestra $30, First balcony (A. B. C. D. E. center section) $72, First balcony (A. B. C. D. E. side section) $54, First balcony (F. to S. E.) $36, Second balcony (A. B. C. D. E.) $36, Second balcony (F. G. H. I. J. K.) $27, and Second balcony (L. to R.) $18.

This scale of prices should appeal to every music-lover in New England and none should miss the opportunity of becoming a season ticket-holder of the Opera House. Every opera-goer knows the advantages enjoyed by the season ticket-holder, especially by the out-of-town patrons of the Opera House. For a comparatively small sum out-of-town opera-goers can secure good seats for ever performance and thus avoid the inconvenience of ordering seats by mail for some special performance, sending in their checks for the amount only to receive the disappointing response that the desired seats are sold already.

Opera may be a luxury but to the true lovers of the highest form of music it is a necessity. For years these music-lovers longed to have an opera house of their own where they could hear the masterpieces of their favorite composers, the new works of the masters of the modern schools, and the great stars they worship. Their hopes have been realized. The Boston Opera House has given and will continue to give its patrons all they desire. The Opera House and its managing directors have justly and deservedly gained the confidence of the music-lovers of New England. Let the subscriptions for the next season be a reward for past accomplishment and an encouragement for future achievement.

A subscription department office is open at the Opera House daily from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., where plans of the auditorium can be seen and all necessary information will be given.

Three Twins.

The secret of the success of Jos. M. Cates' musical comedy "Three Twins" which has scored the biggest hit of a hit everywhere lies in the excellent comedy that the authors have put in their story and in the superb cast, headed by Clifton Crawford.

Mr. Crawford, who is the leader of the fun-making appears on the stage with a moment after the opening chorus and immediately puts the audience in a hilarious mood. From then to the finale of the last act there is not let up in the smart pace set for the comedy, song and dance, while during every moment of the dialogue the laughter is incessant the musical and specialty features have not been neglected.

The production abounds in surprises in chorus groupings and mechanical effects. "The Girl Up There" introduces the "faceograph" which shows the features of a chorus girl on the back drop, magnified a hundred times. The dancing chairs in the "Yama Yama" number are a source of wonderment. The chorus is made up of pretty girls and there are a lot of them.

This phenomenal success, with the original New York cast and production will be at Music Hall soon.

Evans' Honey Boy Minstrels.

The coming engagement of George Evans and his Honey Boy minstrels at Music Hall promises an entertainment of all that is best in this popular style of amusement. Now in its third triumphant year this organization has lived up to all the promises which have been made for it and has firmly planted itself as America's one first class minstrel organization. The present tour has an added interest in that it presents George Evans as sole owner of the Honey Boys as well as the star.

When Cohan and Harris first launched their minstrels they placed the Honey Boy at the head of their organization as the one best black face comedian in America, the feature of what was to be the biggest and most elaborate offering of minstrelsy this year had ever seen. Through two years of real artistic triumph this comedian has qualified as capable in every sense. For the present tour, George Evans' Honey Boy Minstrels are the ones which take themselves selves the duty of maintaining the high standard established during the past two years. That the Honey Boy has surrounded himself with excellent material can be seen by a glance at the names of such minstrel favorites as John King, Sam Lee, Vaughn Comfort, Matt Keefe, James Meehan, Clarence Marks, Tommy Hyde, C. H. Hildard, Tom Kane, Plerce Keegan, Master Fagan, Wilson Miller and Ned Brill. The production has been staged by such masters of musical entertainment as George M. Cohan and James Gorman. The last half of the program is devoted to a minstrel comedy entitled "The Firemen's Picnic" written, rehearsed and staged for this entertainment by George M. Cohan.

A special feature of the "first part" will be the appearance of James J. Corbett as the interlocutor. Corbett is said to have made a great hit in black face and the last half of the "Crimson Trelis" (first part) scene in which he occupies the middle chair is said to produce some of the best laughs in the show. Later on he assumes the conventional evening clothes and is heard in his story of the recent meeting between Jeffries and Johnson. This talk is promised to be an expert's opinion and explanation of Jeffries' failure to "come back" last July.

EX-GOV. GUILD AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA

President Taft will send to the United States Senate Friday nomination of former Governor Curtis Guild of Massachusetts as ambassador to Russia, and W. W. Rockhill as ambassador to Turkey. Mr. Rockhill is at present ambassador to Russia.

Ex-Governor Guild is an intimate personal friend of President Taft. He was appointed by the president as special ambassador to Mexico at the time of the celebration of the centennial of that republic.

Mr. Rockhill will succeed Oscar S. Straus, who was Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor under former President Roosevelt. Mr. Straus resigned the ambassadorship to Turkey several months ago.

Ex-Governor Guild passed two summers recently at the Stickney cottage at Gerrish Island.

Curtis Guild, governor for three years, will enter diplomatic life with a long training and experience in political and economic affairs.

In journalistic, military and political fields he has won high honors. He is a member of many of Boston's most exclusive clubs, and ever since his graduation from Harvard with honors in 1881 has accomplished much in varied directions.

For the past 30 years Mr. Guild has been identified with politics in Boston and Massachusetts. His well known abilities as an orator made him an eagerly sought guest at Republican gatherings of all kinds.

During the "free silver" days of 1896 Mr. Guild stood forth strongly for the gold platform. As delegate at large to the St. Louis Republican convention in that year he was elected one of the vice presidents of the gathering and did strenuous work to help secure the nomination to the presidency of William McKinley.

In the war against Spain he went to Florida and Cuba as a lieutenant in the Sixth Massachusetts. In Cuba he was appointed lieutenant-colonel with duties of inspector general on the staff of General Fitzhugh Lee, who commanded the seventh army corps.

In Cuba he instituted a system of weekly inspection of war camps, providing better food for soldiers, for which he was commended by the war department.

Mr. Guild returned to this state in 1899 to oppose John L. Bates for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. He was defeated by 53 votes.

In 1900 when ex-President Roosevelt made a tour of the West he chose Mr. Guild as an associate speaker and traveling companion. He shared in the honors of the whirlwind tour and also in its dangers, for he was present at three riots. Since then he and Roosevelt have been very close friends.

Mr. Guild in 1901 became president of the Republican club of this state, and the next year resigned the office to become Lieutenant Governor on the ticket with ex-Governor Bates. He was re-elected in 1903, and although Bates was defeated by William L. Douglass in 1904, Mr. Guild received a third term as lieutenant governor.

In the fall of 1905 he was elected governor, defeating General Charles W. Bartlett. He won in 1906 from District Attorney John B. Moran, after an aggressive campaign. He secured his third term in 1907, partly owing to the scattered forces of his opponents, Whitney, Bartlett and Higgen, the latter of the "Independence League," splitting up the opposition vote.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MAWSIM ARE ANNOUNCED

Arrangements for the mawsim, to be held in Freeman's block, beginning the week of April 24, have been announced by Fred E. Hasty, chairman of the fair committee. The principal decorative feature of the mawsim, a Moorish bazaar, will be a temple twenty-four feet high, to be located in the middle of the main hall.

The first floor of the temple will be occupied by booths and the second floor will be used for decorative purposes. More than 1000 electric bulbs will supply light and hundreds of thousands of feet of Moorish tapestry will be unfurled.

Mr. Hasty said that the committee was surprised by the generous contributions of the merchants. A merchandise committee consisting of Geo. H. McCauley and G. Fred Drew sailed north to buy stock for the fair, but the merchants declined to sell the material. They gave it to the fair committee.

MELLEN WILL AID IN STREET RECONSTRUCTION

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston Wednesday announced that he had conferred with President Mellen and Vice President Byrnes of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and that they agreed to contribute toward the cost of reconstructing Southampton street and extending Rogers avenue.

According to the mayor, the railroad company will pay $10,000 toward the work on Southampton street, which will cost $71,200 and $2500 toward Rogers avenue, where the total expense will be $9000.

During his conference the mayor told both officials that former mayors had been compelled to hold up the work because they did not believe that the city should bear the entire expense when the railroad will get practically all the benefit.

For the Southampton street work the city will get some $18,000 from the Boston Elevated Railway company in payment for the pavements between the tracks.

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF MRS. FRANK GARDNER

Tomorrow the earthly remains of a noble woman will be laid to rest; a woman whom it was an honor to have known, and while the hearts of those near to her in life are now filled with grief from the loss of her companionship, yet they will find sweet consolation in the thought that the good woman has justly earned the reward promised the worthy. One cannot say in which relation in life Mrs. Frances Gardner was most admired. As a wife she was most devoted, loving and sustaining at all times. In her friendship there was a true ring of sincere loyalty, and as a benefactress her heart was always filled with human kindness and neither race or color were considered so long as living creature needed her aid and sympathy. The energy with which she entered into whatever she undertook, be it in the performance of her household duties or the enjoyment of an hour's pastime in the home of a friend or ministering to the needs of a friend, there characterized her manner the same earnestness and determination of purpose so often commented upon by those who had the pleasure to know her. On her lips there was always a cheery greeting even when her body was racked with pain, and as the influence of her presence was always for the good, may the influence of her memory be likewise uplifting.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE AT THE NORTH CHURCH

He was despised and rejected.....Mauder Anthem, Calvary.....Mauder Organ, March to Calvary.....Mauder The annual offering will be received for the Indian and Armenian orphans. # FIFTH TIME TAX COLLECTOR

For the fifth consecutive time Stewart Everett Rowe, exponent of strenuously, and student at Boston University School of Law, who comes from his home in the Granite State to the institution on Beacon Hill has been chosen collector of taxes for the town of Kensington.

GOOD RESULTS OF YEARS' WHALE CATCH

From various sources it is now possible to form an estimate of the results obtained in 1910 in different parts of the world by whaling vessels owned in Sandefjord, Larvik, Tonsberg and other ports in southern Norway, says the Field, London. The fields of operation covered a wide area, and included Shetland, the Hebrides, the Faro Islands, the west coast of Ireland, Ireland, Spitzbergen, South Georgia, South Shetland, the Falkland Islands, Kerguelen and the coast of Chili and of southwest Africa.

While the take in 1909 was very satisfactory, that of 1910 proved still more so, especially in Antarctic waters, and this season a large number of additions are being made to the fleet.

In the Hebrides, Shetlands, and on the west coast of Ireland, 16 vessels secured 734 whales, representing an average of 1300 barrels of oil each. Among the fish captured were several sperm whales, and 17 North cape whales, of which latter kind four were killed in Shetland waters, where none of these valuable monsters had been got before. It would appear, however, that a petition is to be presented to parliament on the part of the Shetland fishermen that the capture of whales should be absolutely prohibited from June 1 to July 5. Such prohibition applies even now within a certain distance of the coast, but should it be extended, it will practically ruin the industry, as the period in question is the best in the whole year.

In the Faro Isles 16 vessels secured an average of 725 casks of oil. Here the fish were larger and fatter than they have been for many years, yielding in some instances as many as 25 casks each, as against 15 the previous season. Among the rarer species captured there were four sperm whales and two North cape whales.

On the east and west coasts of Iceland 32 vessels were engaged, securing in all 94 whales, or an average of 750 casks of oil per ship. Several blue and a number of humpback whales were captured, but the bulk of the take consisted of porpoises. Thick and stormy weather interfered greatly with the fishing, especially in the earlier part of the year, and the distances which the carcasses have to be towed constitute an drawback.

Off Spitzbergen four vessels belonging to a company in Larvik captured 99 whales and three bottlenoses, representing 3600 casks of oil and two vessels, owned in Sandefjord caught 66 whales and a bottlenose, which produced 1800 casks. The former of these companies has a permanent station at Green harbor on the ice fjord, while the other works with a floating galling down establishment.

The ice conditions were comparatively favorable, as on May 29 there was already open water at the entrance to Green harbor, although not until June 12 could the station be reached. As early as the middle of July the drift ice began to give trouble, filling up the fjords and inlets. The best take was made between 21-2 degrees east longitude and 1 degree west longitude, and operations were conducted as far north as 80 degrees, where however, no great success attended them. The old grounds in Hornsund and Bellund were not visited by whalers last year. Including those of all nationalities 68 whaling vessels, besides tugs and transports, were employed in 1910 in these northern waters, and the quantity of oil obtained by them was about 58,500 casks, or about 10,000 less than the preceding year; while the quantity of guano obtained was also considerably smaller.

While the take in the Northern Arctic was relatively only moderate, that in the Antarctic was larger than it has ever been. In 1908 14 vessels with one land station and six floating boiling down establishments obtained on an average 4160 casks of oil each, or in all about 58,000 casks. In 1909 double the number of vessels with six land stations and eight floating establishments obtained 116,000 casks, or an average of about 3860 per vessel. Last year from the two most important whaling areas, alone in the Southern Arctic 147,300 casks of oil were procured, or an average of 5900 per vessel.

The fishing last year at South Georgia was very productive, whales being extremely plentiful. Among those captured were 11 right whales, but the humpbacks were the most numerous. In all, about 4000 whales, representing 106,800 casks of oil, or rather more than the whole of the production of the world four years ago, were captured by 14 vessels, and such are the preparations being made that it is expected some 6000 will be accounted for this year (1911).

An immense waste of raw material has hitherto taken place in these seas, the partially stripped carcasses of innumerable whales having been cast adrift. Last year an effort was made to remedy this evil, and 3800 barrels of oil were recovered from what would otherwise have become derelicts by means of a large floating boiling down establishment.

At South Shetland six vessels from Sandefjord had 1035 whales, which produced 22,500 casks of oil. In association with these there were two newly fitted out boiling down steamers of about 4700 tons each; these can extract 250 casks a day, and carry a cargo of about 20,000 casks. Two other Norwegian vessels and three belonging to a Chilean company had between them 896 whales, which produced 10,600 casks of oil. The take included about 150 blue whales and some 300 porpoises, the rest were humpbacks. Formerly most of the fish were taken off the whaling fleet harbor on Deception; last year the largest number were captured somewhat further south on the coast of Grahamland. As yet these seas undoubtedly abound to a marvelous extent with whales, but how long this will continue to be the case is another matter, for, as a result of the success hitherto obtained, many more vessels will be employed there this year than last.

On the coast of Chili two vessels belonging to a Norwegian company, from a permanent station at Corral in Valdivia, secured 7000 casks of oil, the fish captured being principally blue and humpbacked whales. Another company is forming a station further south, at San Pedro, and a third, a Chilean one, caught 29 of the valuable right whales in the neighborhood of Punta Arenas, where it has its headquarters. The whales on the southern part of the Chili coast are very large and fat.

At Kerguelen two Norwegian vessels, in association with transport and towing steamers, met with but moderate success. In addition to whaling proper, they hunted sea elephants, of which considerable number are found here.

On the Portuguese West African coast the Viking company of Sandefjord with two vessels and a floating boiling down establishment, obtained 13,000 casks of oil; while the South African whaling company, from permanent stations at Durban and in Saldanha, obtained 20,000 casks, besides manufacturing a large quantity of guano.

The Newfoundland whale fishing turned out much more satisfactorily in 1909 than might have been expected. In view of the number of complaints that had been made in regard to it, and seven vessels captured 518 whales, of which 80 were of the blue species. For last year full returns are not yet available, but up to Sept. 26 one vessel had got 120 fish, a very satisfactory result. On the coast of British Columbia the whaling industry continues to be very successful, and six new vessels from Norway were added last year to the existing fleet. A considerable number of whalers works along the coasts of Japan and Corea, and several of the companies which own these have amalgamated under the name of the Oriental whaling company, with headquarters at Osaka.

With regard to the right whale fishery, one of the Dundee ships brought home the produce of five of these huge creatures, including 6500 pounds of whalebone, and a third, of whalebone; another, the Scotia, had three whales and 2500 pounds of whalebone; and a third, the Morning Star, got seven in Davis strait and 14,000 pounds of whalebone.

The right whale fishery, as carried on from New Bedford and San Francisco, is falling off.

THE USEFUL DAIRY COW.

Contributes More to Man's Necessity Than Any Other Animal.

The dairy cow if able to express herself in a way which the human family would comprehend might well lay claim to being man's best friend, says the Kansas Farmer. She might establish such a claim by calling attention to the fact that from her production and from her carcass man manufactures more of the necessities of life than from any other similar source. She furnishes these necessities to him from infancy until such a time as temporal things are no longer associated with his existence, and she does it ungrudgingly and constantly.

In addition to contributing to man's necessity and his pleasure, the pro-

The imported two-and-a-half-year-old Guernsey heifer Rouge 11, of the Brickfield 2835, owned by the Iowa State college, recently made a new world's record. In one year this great heifer has produced 6113 pounds of butter fat and a milk yield of 10,023 pounds, an average test of 5.55 per cent. At 30 cents per pound the 6113 pounds of butter fat would be worth $363.54, and at 15 cents per hundredweight the 10,023 pounds of skim milk would be worth $150.35, or a total of $513.89 worth of products.

perity of an agricultural community is more closely identified with her than with any other of the domestic animals. The horse is quite essential in tilling the soil, but where necessity requires in the sturdy son of the cow can take his place, as he has done in every agricultural section on earth. The horse can only furnish labor and can only return a profit to his owner when conditions are right for returning satisfactory grain crops. It is a well known fact that the dairy cow is the salvation of the farmer in times of crop procs, as she is able to convert the rough crops which are never a total failure into dairy products which always have a cash value.

In addition to this she furnishes skim milk and butter for the calves, pigs and poultry and fertility for the soil, without which a farm becomes less prosperous.

The elimination of the dairy cow would necessitate an almost revolutionary readjustment of man's tastes and requirements. It would mean untold suffering and hardship. Of course she will not be dispensed with, but her value can perhaps best be appreciated by contemplating such a loss.

She will continue to be man's best friend as long as the human family exists and will keep on supplying him with his greatest needs just as she has done through all the ages.

The "Temporary" Wife.

Mrs. Leslie Milne, who writes "Shans at Home," tells an amusing story of a Hindu dispenser connected with an American mission who during the absence of the missionary took a Shan wife in addition to his Hindu wife, who was in Calcutta. When the missionary returned he was very indignant—naturally disapproving of polygamy—and the dispenser came to Mrs. Leslie's house to ask her to intercede for him. "What have I done?" he said. "I may by my custom have many more wives than one, so I said to the sahib, 'Sir, be not angry; it was only a temporary measure,' but the more I thought to please him by telling him that it was only temporary the more angry he became."

The old time favorite, Uncle Tom's Cabin, with everything from the hours to the ice cakes, was presented at Music Hall last evening and was a good house. This famous old play, always sure of a good house and the company made a very creditable show.

THE RISING WAVE OF CRIME IN FRANCE

As France has grown richer since the Revolution it has grown more degenerate, said a recent English writer, and as it to confirm the statement we now have the testimony of several serious French journals to the increased criminality, both juvenile and adult, which is conspicuous in Paris and other great cities. A scientific study of the question has been made in the Economiste Francais (Paris), which draws its statistics from the reports of the Journal Officiel (Paris), the Government organ of criminal conditions. This undoubtedly reliable and accurate paper tells us:

"The increase of crime is one of the most urgent questions now occupying public attention. Juvenile crime has reached a pitch which rouses the greatest apprehension. The evil has become so crying that the official reports on criminal procedure have never been less optimistic. In the district of Paris the number of murders is steadily on the increase."

Thus within ten years, we are told, the crimes of this nature have increased from twenty in 1899 to ninety-four in 1909. What is the cause of this increased violence and rascality in young and old which is most fragrant in Paris? The Clerical papers of Paris, such as the Soleil and Croix, lay the blame on the non religious teaching of the public schools. The Socialist organs as the Humanite and the Intransigeant, attribute the general rage of crime to the imbecility of the Government, even under the professed Socialist, Briand. The Revue (Paris) thinks that the decadence of the police lies at the root of the matter. The police are not what they were in the days of Fouché. Even Lepine, chief of police in Paris, is called a failure. He-paid, liable to dismissal at any moment, the gendarme is no longer respected, and, we are told, good and capable men now avoid the service. Recruits are to be found only among the incapable and semi-criminal classes. Describing the evil condition of things in Paris, Colonel Lambertin says in the Revue:

"The recrudescence of murders, thefts and robberies, and the increasing audacity of the Apaches in the cities and bandits in the country, the crimes and offences of all kinds fill all the pages of the newspapers, while the preparators themselves often remain untouched, have raised serious doubts about the efficiency of the means being taken to insure public security. People are asking if society finds itself sufficiently protected and if some steps should not be taken to remedy this evil. The statistics and reports are being investigated and the facts they reveal furnish adequate ground for alarm. The number of complaints and indictments has increased by more than 100,000 in ten years. Each year nearly 100,000 crimes remain unpunished and 10,000 accused are arrested without evidence to commit them. There the vagabonds, deserters and tramps equal in number an army corps of 70,000 men!"

Colonel Lambertin attributes this increase to the defective organization and decadent character of the French police, whom he contrasts with the constabulary of Germany. "There is a deterioration in the quality as well as in the quantity" of the French gendarmes of today. To quote his words:

In former times our police enjoyed a high prestige and a reputation for high morale, and their reputation was unstained. Because of the social respect in which the force was held, because of its spirit of discipline and self-abnegation, and its deep sense of duty, its service was performed with unrivalled excellence.

"Let us plainly tell the truth. Their reputation is fast disappearing. This cannot escape the observation of the clear sighted. But so long as the profession of the gendarme becomes no longer a position, but a makeshift all reforms in the service will be built upon the sand. So long as the treasury refuses to make grants sufficient to give the gendarme enough for his support and that of his family, we can expect no efficient police service."

Criminality may spread even to the police, says the colonel, for already the French gendarmes, degraded and humiliated by the government, is being deserted by good men, and the authorities find themselves obliged to recruit from among "the mediocre, the incapable, the worthless, or the depraved." Even at present the criminal class "act with redoubled hardness, because they count on the negligent incompetency of the police." But things may become even worse than this if the police prove faithless to their charge. To quote further:

"Think for a moment of what would happen if the gendarmes, guardian of order and tranquility, watchman over life and property, and judicious instrument of repression, were to fail us utterly. We have already often been threatened by this and are now threatened more and more. The danger is real, and it increases every year. If it is not met with energy and promptness, it will prove impossible to escape a catastrophe."

Dyspepsia is America's curse. Burdock Blood Bitters conquers dyspepsia every time. It drives out impurities, tones the stomach restores perfect digestion, normal weight, and good health.
